Venice Schools Plan Tax Rate Vote

District Tax Income Dropping; Education Rate Lowest in County

Immediate action to prepare plans for a possible school referendum was advocated Monday evening by Venice school board members during a monthly meeting conducted by Board President Michael Leathern.

The board tentatively suggested a mid-August date, subject to clearance of any legal aspects and other preliminary preparations for a referendum. Concrete proposals to be offered Venice taxpayers will be determined by the board, with the proposals outlined at the July 7 meeting by finance committee members, Chairman Lester R. Salem, Fred Dyer and Eugene Elger, and School Superintendent John O. Pier.

With the loss by Venice Community Unit School District Three of $17,122 in tax assessable property, principally from railroad sources, in the last fiscal year, alone, the necessity for an immediate reassessment of the taxing situation was agreed upon by all members.

$1.25 Current Rate

Currently the Venice educational fund tax rate is $1.25, the lowest in Madison county but the legal limit which may be applied without a referendum.

School Board Secretary Lester Salem noted that unless additional funds can be obtained, many services provided by the school children—such as driver training, special language courses, kindergarten, cafeteria service and vocal music classes—might be sharply curtailed or eliminated.

Salem reported that representatives of the Venice school teachers met with the finance committee last week.

Pay Requests Received They requested salary increases for one year's duration of $35 monthly across-the-board for those holding a bachelor degree and $40 monthly in all categories for those teachers with master degrees. Automatic yearly raises on the schedule range from $25 to $30 monthly.

A further meeting with the teachers is slated for June 8, when the board will submit counter-proposals.

The suggested mid-August date for the school tax referendum will allow the new tax rate, if approved by voters, to be applied to next year's budget, permitting salary increases and continuation of an enriched curriculum, the discussion brought out.

Objections Delay Taxes School Board Attorney Harry E. Hartman offered little hope that money tied up in tax objection cases in Edwardsville would alleviate the district's immediate financial needs.

President Leathern said the people should be given the choice of a higher educational tax rate or elimination of vital school services, which board members described as having been hard fought in past years.

Cleveland Johnson, president of the Eagle Park Acres Improvement Association, addressed the board briefly. He said his organization is in the process of determining what recommendations to submit to the board to further promote measures for improving the welfare of school children.

Thieves Steal from Teacher And Jewelry Store Window

Theft of $170 from her billfold which was in her purse, was stolen from the display window of the Bennington Jewelry store, 1808 Delmar avenue, early Tuesday by Mrs. Kay Hendrick, Rural Route One, a seventh grade book teacher at Central junior high school. She said the theft occurred between 11:30 a.m. and 2:35 p.m.

Merchandise valued at $10 was stolen from the display window of the Bennington Jewelry store, 1808 Delmar avenue, early Tuesday. The alarm rang at 1:45 a.m. Taken were two sets of cuff links, two tie bar sets and a cigarette lighter. A display window was broken with a rock thrown from a car.

Slashed In Holdup Attempt A patron attempted to rob a Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 employee shortly before 1 a.m. yesterday. When the attempt failed, the would-be robber slashed the intended victim, Johnny Brink, 2256 Washington avenue, on the right forearm with a knife.

Brink, who was released after emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital, related to Venice police that he was closing up the Legion bar and had already put the cash in a safe. After the customer had drawn a knife and demanded money, Brink told him that he did not know how to open the safe. The slashing followed.

The man being sought by police is described as about 38 years old and weighing 120 to 145 pounds. He was wearing blue denim jacket and trousers.

A break-in occurred Monday night at Joe Padman's general store, 1201 Market street. Venice police were notified Tuesday. The intruder took nothing from a storage room, which he entered by breaking a rear window, and failed to break through a door leading to the main part of the store.

Michael Nickel, 2622 Missouri avenue, reported at 3:15 p.m. Monday that between 10 and 11 a.m. a $25 fountain pen was stolen from a desk at Prather junior high school.

The long civil rights legislative stalemate in Washington has been cited by regional officials as requiring a delay in construction of 100 new apartments for the elderly at the Anchorage project, it was disclosed during a monthly Granite City Housing Authority meeting Tuesday.

Preliminary preparations for the new units, which would double the size of Anchorage, have been virtually completed. But the ten-state region with headquarters in Chicago has exhausted its allocations of units and funds.

Normally, there would have been no hitch, since Congress is in session and the time for new legislation has expired. But the Senate debate has caused a logjam in the legislative process, delaying the housing bills and many other proposed laws.

Since administrative actions would be necessary in both Washington and Springfield following the bill's passage, the

100 Youngsters Attend Madison Story Hour

More than 100 Madison youngsters attended the first session of story hour yesterday afternoon at the Madison public library. Sessions begin at 1 p.m. and will continue each Wednesday and Friday afternoons through June 26.

Mrs. Dennis Reville, head librarian, reported an increase in first day attendance over previous years with more children expected to take advantage of the program tomorrow.

Ages range from kindergarten through fourth grade youngsters. With the increase in participation, plans are being made to divide the large group into two smaller groups for Friday's story hour.

Volunteers from Madison junior service club and other organizations supervise the program, which is held in the library reading room, 1700 Fifth street.

Auto Trunk Looted Robert West, 3137 Aubrey avenue, reported at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday that the trunk of his 1953 auto was forced open while the car was parked on the Granite City Street lot, between 4 p.m. and midnight. Taken from it was a wheel and tire, a bumper jack and two green 26 foot plastic rats.

$100 Awning Blaze A fire of undetermined origin caused $100 damage to the awning at Jack's Multimarket Barber shop, 9310 Twenty-second street, about 1:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Firemen from the main station answered the alarm and said it may have been caused by a carelessly tossed cigarette.

Schools Designed By Three Firms To Be Visited

Highest Teacher Raises For Long Service, Training

A $377,916 a month teacher salary schedule for next year and a $588-$588 schedule for the 1965-66 year were approved by the Granite City school board Monday night, subject to future agreement on wording of fringe benefits.

The schedules were developed by American Federation of Teachers Local 743 in consultation with the school administration. The changes will cost $339,675—$110,425 in 1964-65, a like amount the following year and an extra $118,825 in 1965-66 (based on 320 persons).

Regulation had agreed last month on the equivalent of $36-$63 and $33-$60 raises in the next two years (including $11-$28 automatic increments and $25 and $22 raises). Estimated total cost over the two-year period was $335,000 to $340,000. An alternate plan amounted to raises of $33-$60 and $38-$65, with an identical cost last through June 1966 but ultimately slightly higher cost.

Actual amount of the raises—other than the $335,000 to $340,000—was left undecided at the time the settlement in May. The new decision applies non-increment raises in a progressive fashion based on experience as well as increasing raises from $11 to $33 next year and $11 to $41 the following year.

Seek Greater Experience Hope expressed was that more experienced and highly-trained instructors will be attracted.

In reaching as well as increasing the salary schedule, the new plan leaves annual increment raises in an $11-$38 range but increases many of them in various steps of the schedule.

School administrators estimated that minimum-maximum increases for any one individual will be $22-$61 monthly in 1964-65 and $22-$63 the year after that.

Dog owners are required to show proof of the pet's inoculation before purchase.

CD Alert Whistle Test in GC Fails—Officials Start Study

Plans to tour school buildings designed by three architectural firms were made Monday night by the Granite City school board, which is preparing to build two new schools and two additions.

Bond issuance and site acquisition also are being studied as a result of public approval of the May 23 bond election. It was announced that construction is being started on three non-bond additions—at Prather junior high and the Wilson and Mitchell grade schools.

Specific plans for the tour are to be made during a regular board meeting next Monday night, but the discussion held at Monday's special meeting indicated that board members and administrators will inspect existing facilities that were planned by the Henry Gabriel-Sylvester-Dulgeroff firm of Granite City, William E. Htner of St. Louis and D. John Hoener & Associates of St. Louis.

Gabriel and Dulgeroff, Htner and Allan Hoener, accompanied by Otis Sec, were among those interviewed by the board Monday night. It was an open meeting, but no more than one architectural firm was in the room at one time.

Also interviewed were Architect Virgil H. Dulgeroff of Granite City and E. R. Kimball and Earl Wm. DeSverdup & Parcel of St. Louis.

Large, Small Firms All five firms reported extensive experience in school construction as well as with other types of buildings. Size of their staffs ranged from 100 to three.

Among 14 firms considered were the Hoener firm's specialization in school work and the company's practice of providing a full-time "clerk of the works" to coordinate construction supervision; and the Gabriel-Dulgeroff firm's experience with expansion of the Granite City schools.

Fees listed were a flat fee by Sverdup & Parcel and Hoener; 5% by Htner, with a credit of 1% if timing of the four phases of the program permits simultaneous supervision; 5% on the new junior high and 6% on the new grade school, Niedringhaus grade school addition and high school addition, by Gabriel-Dulgeroff; and 3% on over $2 million, 5 1/2% on $1 to $2 million and 6% on less than $1 million.

Official Action at Last

Interest Booming in Drive To Restore Old Cemeteries

A glimmer of hope — the first in several years for restoration of at least one of the two deteriorated cemeteries in East Granite, developed Wednesday when Assistant City Inspector William Jenkins reported he had visited in Springfield with Rev. Msgr. William Haug, Diocese Chancellor, to discuss the condition of the Catholic cemetery.

Jenkins, armed with a series of photographs taken by The Press-Record and copies of old agreements signed many years ago when the cemetery lots first were purchased, outlined the condition of the cemetery to Msgr. Haug. He was given every indication there will be a "go ahead" on plans to correct the situation, Jenkins said. Msgr. Haug said he would take up the matter of the agreement terms with attorneys before making any further decision and that city officials would hear from him soon.

The action was the first concrete step in a number of varied campaigns to restore the two cemeteries. Latest demands for action came a week ago from Mrs. Joseph Stajduhar of 3018 Nameoki road, who appeared at a Granite City council meeting seeking aid "to eliminate the disgrace of these places."

Since her appearance a week ago at a city council meeting demanding that city officials do something about the cemeteries, she has been deluged by telephone calls. Mrs. Stajduhar said, "not only from persons living around here, but from as far away as Collinsville." She said the calls came from persons in many instances, who do not have relatives buried in either of the cemeteries, "but who are interested in seeing that such places are kept up."

She intends to keep after local city officials and Catholic dignitaries until "we can get something done, even if it means hiring our own attorney to dig into the matter and find out who really is responsible for care of the cemeteries," Mrs. Stajduhar told the Press-Record.

Last week Mrs. Stajduhar appeared at a city council meeting to seek aid but was told the city would do nothing more than spray the weeds. Officials claimed the city frequently has been threatened with lawsuits if it did anything to disturb the cemeteries. Mrs. Stajduhar said she took up the campaign for improvement of the cemeteries after a sister-in-law visiting from southern Illinois "broke in to town" over what she saw when they visited the grave of a relative.

Her first rebuff at the council meeting failed to deter Mrs. Stajduhar, however.

"I called on the mayor again Monday," she related, "but I didn't get any more satisfaction except that he told me somebody had gone to Springfield to see the Bishop (about the Catholic cemetery). He didn't tell me who the somebody was [and I couldn't find out. He did give me the name of an attorney who is supposed to have all the information about the cemeteries, and I intend to call on him. In fact, I did call him once, but he wasn't in."

According to Mrs. Stajduhar, her campaign is just beginning. "I don't know what it will take," she said, "but I intend to keep coming after it until something is done. I have been flooded with phone calls from interested people and I hope to set up a meeting with them if they become interested to that extent."

Since her appearance at the council meeting, she related, she has heard all kinds of stories, including one that a realtor wants to "remove the bodies with a bulldozer and then subdivide the property." As for the city wanting the property for a park, "then why don't they remove the bodies, build a new cemetery and then build their park?"

City Auto License Purchases Down

Purchases of 1964-65 city auto licenses by Granite City auto owners is about 3000 behind last year, it was reported today at the office of City Clerk A. L. Stevens where the $3 windshield stickers are on sale.

The licenses became due May 1, the start of the city new fiscal year, and it is expected a police drive on delinquent motorists probably will be started in the near future.

The sale now is nearing 7400, and 11,559 were sold last year. The clerk's office on the second floor of the city hall is open on Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. until noon to accommodate auto owners.

Robert Patterson Dies Here at 68

Robert (Bernie) Patterson, 68, retired electrician of 2920 Warren avenue, died Tuesday at 10 a.m. in St. Elizabeth Hospital after an illness of 11 days. He was taken to the hospital seven hours before he died, apparently of a heart attack induced by complications.

Mr. Patterson moved to Granite City four years ago from Lansing, Mich., where he was employed as an electrician by the Fisher Body Co. for more than 20 years. He was born July 14, 1895, in Gleason, Tenn. In 1928 he moved to Lansing, Mich., but returned two years later to Gleason where he remained until 1937 when he moved back to Lansing. He worked there until his retirement in 1960 when he and his family moved to Granite City.

He is survived by his wife, Stella, a daughter, Mrs. Martha Lucille Dorch, Granite City; a son James Edward of Normal, Ill., and a brother Rev. J. K. Patterson of Moline, Ill., and six grandchildren.

An obituary notice is given elsewhere in this issue.

C. E. Townsend, vice-chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency, presided at the meeting and spoke briefly on the general problem of air pollution. A number of Quad-Cityans and others from the Illinois section of the metropolitan area were present, including Mayor Leonard R. Davis of Granite City.

Monthly Sewage Charge May Be Announced on June 15

The monthly charge for Granite City's for the city-ordered sewage treatment plant may be announced at the June 15 session of the city council, according to a report made Monday night by Alderman Charles W. Moerlien, chairman of the Special Pollution committee.

Presenting his committee's report at this week's council session, Moerlien said the members, Aldermen Ford and Johnson and William McGee, are meeting regularly with the bond attorney, fiscal agent and project engineer to prepare the rate ordinance.

Moerlien said he does not believe the district engineers are aware of how much expansion would be needed at the depot to hit the 10% increase figure.

The figure represents the amount of increase in sewage from the depot to be treated at the plant before the city begins charging the government a fee. Under the lease, the city is to treat depot sewage without charge unless there is an increase. The government has been seeking a 50% figure in the lease contract, but the city council last week set the 10% figure. In addition, the city is to pay the government $1600 rental a year.

Church will be held Friday, June 5, at 9 a.m. All boys and girls are invited to attend and refreshments will be served following the registration.

Vacation Bible school will be held June 8 to June 19 from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Rev. Jerry McDaniel is pastor of the church.

neers registered in Illinois but has done MPT work only in Randolph county.

"Our job is to give Granite City the best engineering service, spending the least amount of money. The commission would have been derelict if it had not recommended the best, and the choice was overwhelmingly for Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab, a local firm with much experience and a taxpayer in Granite City," Sternberg pointed out.

Moerlen said he had written to other firms and inquired of services performed by the research firm. "They have engineers on their staff with ability and experience in street and highway and MPT work," he said.

"Engineer Needed Tonight" McGee stressed the city had gone five months without a road fuel tax engineer and that "one should be selected tonight as we can get some work done on the streets."

Whitmer made a final appeal to hire a local firm. "The firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab is long on street experience and handles MPT work for Madison and Vandalia."

The vote was then taken. Earlier, at the opening of the council session a letter written by Whitmer was read in which the alderman recommended the David Johnston firm be hired on a temporary basis to complete urgent MPT projects while the council thrashed out the selection of a firm for the 1964 contract. His motion was approved but was canceled when the council went on to hire the Missouri firm.

He listed the West 24th street and the Woodland avenue projects which were designed by the Johnson firm and were ready for bids to be sought.

The council also heard a letter from the mayor for the employment of David Johnston's city engineer for June. The mayor called for it to be placed on file. The vote was 8-to-6. It was noted the city has never set a salary for Johnston's services as city engineer. The 30-day appointments began in February.

Council Reconsidering Zone
Changes in Shamrock Area

Reconsideration of an amendment to the city's zoning code to permit duplex dwellings and apartments to be built in the first addition to Shamrock Gardens subdivision was given by Granite City council members Monday night, but approval was delayed by the protests of Alderman William McGee, who motioned to defer final action.

The amendment last week failed to get sufficient support of the council after McGee pointed out he had petitions signed by residents in the vicinity of the proposed construction site who said they wanted the R-1 single-family dwelling zone classification maintained.

McGee and the developer, Henry Ross, engaged in a heated debate over the petitions.

Street to New Park

Ross added that with the development of the apartment and duplex houses, he was to build a concrete street that would be developed by the Granite City Park district outside the east limits of the city and said he would be depending on the street to provide park access for Glenview and Shamrock Gardens residents.

Alderman McGee said the residents of the city were concerned over a drop in property valuations. He argued that the amendment had lost votes and should not be re-introduced. Reconsideration was approved by a vote of 13-to-1.

Ross told the council he was planning to set several duplex dwellings which would be an asset to the area, and that he needed to erect the multiple units in order to protect his investment in the area.

The city adopted the heating plan on a 5000 sq. ft. lot. The city signed a contract with the motel firm, and the company officials stated they had no way of knowing at that time what the inspection fees would amount to.

Venice Park Board
Cuts Budget $1810
To Total $66,239

A budget of $66,239—down $1810 from the last fiscal year—was adopted Tuesday night for the Venice park district board.

The new budget provides $48,939 down $360 for general corporate purposes and $17,300 (down $1450) for the recreation program fund. A detailed breakdown of the budget appears in today's legal notices section.

Biggest cutbacks were in wages for park laborers, cut $3000 to $12,000, and in salaries for playground supervisors, down $1500 to $7500.

Harry E. Hartman, attorney for the park board, explained that the $3000 was switched to salaries of park policemen, raising that category to $6000.

The change, he said, was merely to give a more appropriate designation to the wages paid for park laborers. The budget cut for playground supervisors, he said, was to bring the appropriation more into line with the figure actually paid last year.

Other items reduced from last year were: fuel for park buildings, $175, down $25; purchase of new vehicular equipment, $200, down $100; small equipment repairs, $300, down $100; tools, $150, down $50; electric power for grounds, $250, down $50; and the cost for participation in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, $3500, down $500.

Along with the park police salaries, raised here in the categories: Illinois Association of Park Districts, dues, $120, up $5; building repairs, $300, up $130; electricity for buildings, $175, up $25; miscellaneous building supplies, $400, up $75; purchase of trees, plants, seeds, shrubbery and flowers, $2000, up $1000; gasoline and oil, $1400, up $200; workmen's compensation insurance, $1250, up $50; and athletic equipment, $800, up $30.

In other business, it was reported that despite cooler than normal temperatures, large crowds went to Lee Park over the Memorial Day weekend. Marion Groshong, park superintendent, reported that 13 Venice teams will compete in the Madison-Venice Knobby League, which opened yesterday.

Car Damaged on Bridge
Mrs. Barbara A. Duffin, 26, of Edwardsville escaped injury Wednesday afternoon when her automobile skidded on a puddle of oil on the east approach of McKinley bridge and careened into guard railings on both sides of the bridge. The accident occurred shortly before 1:30 p.m.

IRS Says Epping Owes $102,835 Taxes, Penalties

Two claims seeking payment of $102,835 in income taxes and penalties have been instituted by the Internal Revenue Service at Washington against Edward A. Epping and his wife. It was disclosed Wednesday. Epping was administrative assistant to former Illinois state auditor Orville Hodge.

The government claims cover the tax years of 1953 through 1956, a period in which Epping was a partner in the F. M. Mensinger accounting firm of East St. Louis. A third claim, seeking collection of $59,850 in taxes and penalties, has been filed against F. M. Mensinger of Belleville. Epping's accounting firm associate. Hearings are expected to be set in United States Tax Court at St. Louis later this year.

The Internal Revenue service alleges that Epping and Mensinger understated income from the partnership with intent to defraud. Part of the case also is based on disallowance of wage and salary deductions claimed by F. M. Mensinger & Co. which, it is alleged were made in behalf of individuals who were not working for the firm and performing no services.

The two men and their wives, involved by virtue of joint tax returns, deny owing the tax and have asked the courts for a re-determination. They claim the allegation is groundless and that no tax is due.

The IRS said Epping's share of the distributable income from Mensinger & Co. partnership had been understated by $4897 in 1953, $18,361 in 1954, $19,986 in 1955, and $40,133 in 1956. The government contends further that for 1956 Epping reported taxable income of $12,597 with a tax of $3992 whereas actually, it is alleged, taxable income was $73,388 upon which he owed a tax of $44,896.

Rev. Elridge to Begin Special Care Course

Initially, Rev. Elridge will spend six weeks under the guidance of Chaplain Outlaw at Homer G. Phillips Hospital, St. Louis, before moving for the final 12 weeks of the 18-week course to the St. Louis State Hospital on Arsenal street.

The minister, whose church was recently relocated in West Madison from Venice, has been an active member of the Quad-City Ministerial Alliance since 1951. He has also worked with the CORE organization.

Youth Gets Probation, To Work Out $50 Fine

David Jarrett, 17, of 1144 Rhodes street, was placed on six months probation and fined $50 and costs Wednesday by Magistrate Caspary. He will work for the city for 10 days in lieu of payment of the fine.

Jarrett, who is charged with criminal trespass to a motor vehicle, was arrested early April 30 along with Ronald Lowe, 17, of 1232 Edwardsville road, in a 1962 auto taken from Hundley agency's used car lot. Lowe's twin brother, Donald Lowe, was arrested the same morning in a stolen pickup truck. The Lows previously received 10-day jail terms.

Four Drivers Arrested As Police Use Radar

Four drivers were arrested on speeding charges Wednesday morning at 49th street and Madison avenue as Granite City police placed their radar unit into operation. Hearings were set for June 15.

Charged with speeding in excess of 40 miles per hour in the 35-mile zone were Richard R. Mueller, 18, of 4700 Alton road; Sharon K. Schrader, 18, of 4140 Division street; Wayne L. Breeden, 21, of 4029 Sycamore street; and John P. Barham, 22, of 2015 Skeen street, Madison.

$1000 Zimring Fire

A fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $1,000 to the Zimring & Sons Tobacco Co. warehouse, 1832 State street, Wednesday morning. Firemen were at the scene from 7:20 to 8:41 a.m. No damage to contents was reported.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare
the pulling power of a Merc with any competitor's
outboard
of similar

You may have heard it said that a Merc is a racing motor... that it won't pull, it's true. But Mercs win most of the races, but it's not true that they won't pull. A Merc 1000 will pull 10 skiers... water easily. Horsepower is horsepower. One horsepower always equals 33,000 foot-pounds of work whether you use it for pushing, pulling, lagging or racing.

In a Merc, the gears have been wisely selected so that with the proper propeller you can match the motor to almost any boat and load. Mercury designs and builds a complete line of propellers for every Mercury model... so that your boat will do whatever you want it to do... pull lots of skiers, run very fast or both. That's why the official international speed record of 115.57 mph could also push a 20-ft. cruiser at 30 miles per hour.

When you buy a Merc, your Mercury dealer advises you on the selection of a propeller to match your needs. On most competitors' high-horsepower outboards there are 3 optional propellers from which to choose. On the highest-horsepower Mercs (Merc 1200 and Merc 250) there are no less than 20 from which to choose.

Mercs will outpull and outrun any competitor's outboard. That's what we can prove to you. COMPARE Merc's pulling power with any others of similar horsepower. See your Merc dealer soon. See how you can get more pull and more RUN for your money with Mercury... 100, 85, 60, 50, 35, 20, 15, 10, 8, 6, and 3 hp outboards, and MercCruiser Stern Drives... 110 to 310 hp gasoline, 60 and 100 hp diesel.

Hard-Hitting Mercers, Sacred Heart Battle Sunday

Early in the baseball season, the pitchers are supposed to be "way ahead of the hitters." But that hasn't been the case this year with Mercer Funeral Home and Sacred Heart—the Granite City entries in the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City League.

In the first six weeks of the campaign, the Mercers have averaged almost 10 runs per game and the Hearts have scored eight per contest. With that evidence, a power struggle could be forecast for the teams' first meeting of the season at 2:30 p.m. Sunday on the No. 1 diamond at Wilson Park.

When old rivals get together, however, the unexpected, can be expected. St. Inter-City fans won't be too surprised if Sunday's battle turns into a 1-0 or 3-2 pitching duel.

Both squads have the mound potential for such a battle. The Hearts' southpaw Cecil Simpson, for example, has a two-hitter to his credit against Altwood and a four-hitter against Pocahontas.

And Mercer left-hander Terry Kofahl, although handled roughly by several clubs, moved down Altwood on six hits, manager Ollie Miller, though, has another pitcher whom he hopes will be his ace in the hole.

Miller said his pitching choice will be either Kofahl or youngster Pat Harris. Harris is a gritty little righthander who was the Granite City high school's top hurler with a 9-5 record and 127 strikeouts in 80 innings.

"Right now, I'm sort of leaning to Harris," Miller told the Press-Record. Pilot Dick Portell of the Hearts, however, will definitely start Simpson, who owns a 4-1 record. Both Portell, a pitcher himself, and Simpson were with Mercers last season.

Both the Hearts (4-2) and Mercers (3-3) have had up-and-down (or down-and-up) starts. The Hearts started by forfeiting their opener but have progressed to the point where they knocked off previously unbeaten Collinsville last Sunday. The Mercers began with a win and have been alternating with victory and defeat every Sunday since.

And both squads have ailing players. Mercer shortstop Harry Tankless has been out with stomach trouble and Sacred Heart catcher Jim O'Master is out for the season with a badly-spained ankle. In addition, teammate Bobby Jones, an outfielder, suffered a back injury while swinging a bat last Sunday and will be sidelined a week or two.

The managers have announced tentatively starting lineups, where batting averages reflect the early-season run-scoring traits of the teams.

The Sacred Heart lineup: Bob Burns (.385), c; Bob Hoffek (.500), 1b; Sam Georgeff (.133), 2b; Adrian Rains (.240), 3b; Eddie League (.462), ss; Frank Hilde (.579), lf; Mike Sues (.550), cf; Bob Ketter (.250), rf, and Simpson (.431), p.

Hoffek played his first game last Sunday after returning from Eastern Illinois University, and cracked two hits. Hilde and Sues lead in hits with 11 each. League will leave the team soon to play with Springfield in the summer college league.

The Mercer lineup is unsettled: Harry Smith (.455), c; Rich Branding (.450), 1b; Harland Scheibel (.360), 2b; Rich Lee, Larry Dillard or Glenn Hoffman, 3b or ss; Don Crabtree (.345), lf; Charles "Jo-Jo" Johanningmeier (.433), cf; Dale Maxville (.360) or Terry French (.316), rf, and Harris or Kofahl (3-2), p.

The third base and shortstop positions are left open by Tankless' illness and Crabtree's return to the outfield. The three "probables" for the positions have just joined the team—Lee and Dillard from Granite City high and Hoffman from Eastern Illinois.

EIU Lists Averages For Granite Cityans

Final regular-season Eastern Illinois University baseball statistics include averages for three Granite Cityans.

First baseman Bob Hoffek batted .253 with 19 hits and six runs-batted-in and had a .979 fielding average. Second-sacker Larry Dillard batted .388 and fielded .925.

Freshman infielder Glenn Hoffman went hitless in four at-bats and had one error in 11 chances. The Panthers are slated to play Sam Houston State College Monday in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics baseball tournament at St. Joseph, Mo.

Jack James' No-Hitter Gains Victory For Credit Union In Classic Softball

Facing only 24 men in seven innings, Jack James pitched a no-hitter Tuesday night to give Granite City Steel Credit Union a 2-0 Classic League softball victory over Kierulff-Madison Bowl at Wilson Park.

Just five batters reached base against James, two on errors and one on a walk and two who were hit by pitches. James retired the first nine batters before Bob Rains was safe on an error to start the fourth inning.

Rains was erased in a double play and also was put out stealing after being hit by a pitch with two outs in the sixth inning. James struck out only one.

The Credit Union scored both runs in the fourth off loser Bill "Satch" Page, who allowed only

Baseball School, Other Activities To Begin Monday

A baseball school for boys who do not play on Granite City park district teams begins next week at Wilson Park.

Boys aged 6-9 will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday and those aged 10-12 will meet Tuesday and Thursday. All sessions begin at 9 a.m. at No. 8 diamond, 29th and State streets. Teaching will include basic fundamentals, and participants should provide their own gloves.

Boys who participate in the park district's organized baseball program may take part in instructional sessions at 1 p.m. at No. 7 diamond. Bantams will meet Monday, Atonis on Tuesday, Midgets on Thursday and juveniles on Friday.

The baseball school is free to park district residents with a $1.50 fee for non-residents.

The tennis program also opens this week with girls' lessons on Monday and Wednesday and boys' lessons on Tuesday and Thursday. Those aged 8-9 meet at 9 a.m. and those aged 10-11 meet at 10:30 a.m. at the Wilson Park courts on these days. Lessons for children aged 12-13 will be given at 1 p.m. and those aged 14-17 at 2:30 a.m. at the Granite City high school courts.

Adult classes will be at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at Wilson Park.

Gymnastics starts next week with the two beginning classes meeting Monday and Friday, the intermediate class on Wednesday and the advanced class on Tuesday and Thursday, all at 1:30 p.m. at Wilson Park near the park office.

Various activities also begin this week in the sports programs for boys and girls in junior and senior high schools.

Drivers Happy Over New Track

Quad-City teenagers and a few old folks who bend an ear toward the Top 40 record surveys know all about Cobras and Sting Rays and XR-8s. Well, anyway, they know those are sports cars and go mighty fast.

The popularity of these recordings is, perhaps, a reflection of the growing popularity of sports car road racing in the United States. Enthusiasm for the sport washed to the U.S. coasts from Europe and now is spreading in the ho-hum midwest.

Although most area sports fans probably yawned when the American Raceways, Inc. announced construction of a new European-style track at Wentzville, Mo., near St. Louis, local sports car enthusiasts jumped for joy.

Included were Granite Cityans Jim Giese, 45-45 Walter Street, and Jay Dee Snyder, Rural Route One. Members of the Southern Illinois Region Sports Car Club of America, they'll be racing Saturday and Sunday when the new track opens up.

No Oval This! Mention auto racing and the

How does one get interested in the sport? "They asked Donna Mae Mims the same question," said Giese. "As she said—when you go to one of these things you get caught up in it and you say 'One of these days, somehow, someday, I'm going to do this.' It's really exciting."

Giese will drive his German-built Porsche, which goes about 120 m.p.h., in E class for "production" cars—those which utilize only company-manufactured parts. Six-year veteran Snyder will enter G's "modified" class for cars with jazzed-up engines and bodies. His aluminum English-made Lotus can go about 140 m.p.h.

Giese said admission to the races will be $3 for the day, which includes eight 10-hour-long events. The track is located just off Interstate 70 near Wentzville.

No Cash Prizes Sports car racing is a hobby, with trophies no cash—the spoils of victory. And it's an expensive hobby.

There are a lot of millionaires who race," said Giese, who, like Snyder, is employed at Granite City Steel Co. Their local SCCA club, based in Belleville, has about 30 members including several professional men. National standings of drivers are kept on a point system with the leaders competing in the SCCA championships at Riverside, Calif., a not-bed of sports car racing.

Although the pace is fast and furious, Giese said collisions are unusual and serious wrecks are quite rare. "I've never even had contact with another car since I've been racing," he said.

2 Bi-State Victories By Mathews Chevy

Snapping a four-game losing streak, Mathews Chevrolet last night defeated Adams-Gordon-SIAC of Millstadt, 7-3 and 4-3, in the team's home opener at Wilson Park.

The two Bi-State League triumphs give Mathews a 3-3 loop mark and a 6-6 overall record. The club is home to Blue Circle of Manchester, Mo., at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Wilson Park.

A five-run rally in the sixth wiped out a 3-2 lead by the Millstadt club. The visitors opened with three hits in the first frame on three hits and an error.

Mathews rebounded with two in its half of the inning on a single by Ron Dillard, a walk to Marv Brokaw, two wild pitches and Jack Scarborough's sacrifice fly.

Six hits sparked the five-run explosion. Joe Finn started it with a single, followed by run-scoring one-basers by Jake Hintertner, Dillard and Brokaw, a walk to Scarborough, Roger Smith's two-run double and Leon Chappell's one-run single.

Norm Grote blanked Adams-Gordon-SIAC in the final six innings. He allowed four hits, walked one and struck out 10. Clete Schwegel took the loss.

In the second game, Mathews went ahead 2-0 in the third on singles by Dillard and Brokaw and Art Borchers' double. Hintertner scored in the next frame on a wild pitch after tripling.

Then Millstadt tied the count 3-3 in the fifth frame but the leading run was out at the plate on a play from Scarborough to Dillard.

Brokaw scored the winning run in the last of the fifth after singling and striding around on two-out walks to Hintertner, Smith and Chappell.

He probably didn't realize it, but the night's excitement wasn't over for Brokaw. At 2:45 a.m., his wife presented him with a seven-pound, one-ounce baby boy.

Bobby Price Named To Big Eight Team

Bobby Price, former Madison and Granite City high school athlete, has been named to the Big Eight all-conference baseball team. He attends the University of Missouri.

Price, a first baseman this year after playing second base last season, was named to the second team. He was also an all-conference choice in basketball.

After suffering a shoulder injury in a late-season game against Nebraska, Price has returned to the Mizou lineup and had a single in yesterday's 2-1 district playoff victory over St. Louis University.

A victory today over St. Louis U. would send the Tigers to the College World Series at Omaha, Neb.

GC's Gifted Grid Grads Grab Grants

All 11 graduating senior lettermen from the 1963 Granite City high school football team plan to attend college, according to coach Jim Morrison.

Previously announced were athletic scholarships awarded to all-Southwestern Conference halfback Joe Hiles for the University of Missouri and to halfback Bob Pyle for Northwestern University.

Other grants-in-aid accepted were by end Ron Yates to Peru State (Neb.), guard John Love to Northeast Missouri State at Kirksville and all-conference center Mike Rousseau to Valparaiso (Ind.). In addition, fullback Nigm Willong has been offered scholarships but has yet to pick a school.

Those who will attend college without scholarships, Morrison said, are guard Randy Siegel, Central Methodist at Fayette, Mo.; guard Eric Robertson, DePaul at Greenacres, Ind.; guard Randy Thompson, Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Illinois or Tennessee; and end Jim Nash, Peru State.

Morrison said the latter three probably will not participate in college football.

As announced previously by coach Glen Pickering, Madison high all-Midwestern Conference tackle John Onesty has been granted a scholarship to Northeast Missouri State.

In basketball, Granite City's all-conference standout Larry Lilley has been offered scholarships but has yet to make a final decision, according to coach Andy Sullivan.

He also said Jim Warren plans to attend Missouri and try out for basketball but does not have a scholarship.

At Madison, coach Earl McManahan said Cecil Bell, the all-conference star, has several offers but has made no decision.

Another Madison player, John "Champ" Summers, has accepted a cage scholarship to Nichols State at Thibodaux, La.

Play in Tavern League Resumes After Open Date

After a weekend off due to Memorial Day, slow-pitch softball play resumes at 10:30 a.m. Sunday in the Tavern League.

The schedule: Lakeside Inn (0-2) vs. Buaz's Tavern (0-2) at Wilson Park; Tony & Joe's (1-2) vs. Sportsman's Club (2-0) at Third street diamond and Liberty Home (2-1) vs. Bowland (2-0) at 12th street field. Polish Hall (2-1) is idle this week.

PUTTING ON BRAKES after scoring fourth run for Mathews Chevrolet in first game last night is Jake Hintertner. Teammate Art Borchers (foreground) bends over to get bat out of way. Watching the outfield play is Adams-Gordon-SIAC catcher Chuck Beer. The run gave Mathews a 4-3 lead.

Bellemore Defeats Jacobsmeyer's 11-5 In 35 & Over League

Harry Taylor hit a home run, triple and single in three at-tempts Monday night but his Jacobsmeyer's club lost to Bellemore Sporting Goods 11-5 in 35 & Over League slow-pitch softball at Wilson Park.

Ted Sabo of Jacobsmeyer's had a triple and two singles. For Bellemore, Whitey McCommis stroked two doubles and a single in a perfect night and Babe Amelung homered. Pat Patterson and Andy Timko pitched the victory.

In the first game, Local 16 took an 11-4 victory over VFW Post 1300 with Ed Topp and Carlos LeVault getting three hits each and Russell Terry pitching. Howard Champion had three hits — a triple and two singles — for VFW.

Both winning teams took big leads in the early innings. Local 16 fell behind 1-0 in the first frame but rallied with five runs in the second. Bellemore jumped ahead with four runs in the first.

Other triples were by Jerry

James Bond Has Nothing On ABC

Even bowling has its cloak-and-dagger aspects.

Jack Jacchino, Bowland owner, reported that American Bowling Congress field men paid a surprise visit Monday to check the alleys.

The reason was the recent rash of high games, including four 300 games within two weeks. The St. Louis ABC office had checked the alleys after these games, but Milwaukee headquarters apparently wasn't satisfied. The check, Jacchino said, showed the alleys meet ABC requirements.

Especially suspect were lanes 19 and 20 where all four 300s — two by Cooper Fredrick and one each by Chuck Mazzola and Paul Stafford — were rolled in the Bowland doubles tourney.

"One of the inspectors even put on shoes, took a house ball and tried 'em," Jacchino said. "He couldn't do a thing."

Catche Cutoff, down toward the southern tip of the state, is also in good fishing condition but an unusually large number of big, fat snakes sunning in the trees and along the banks has made it less than popular with the average fisherman.

Lake Glendale, a State Natural History Survey experimental lake in Pope County, has given up some nice bluegills but is also full of small warmouth, green sunfish and under-sized bass, says the first report from that area. Farm ponds in the county yielded nice bass until the cool weather, as did Lusk and Grand Piers Creeks.

Little Grassy Lake gave a 6 1/2-pound bass to Glen Ault of Charleston, Mo. Fishing a plus, a worm, and a 6 1/2-pounder to Jack Burns of Belleville, using a surface lure. Bill Johnson of West Frankfort landed several bass, including a 5-pounder, on a surface bait. Campers put blue-

DOWNSTATE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

by C. A. FRAZER

(Compiled from area reports by the Southern Illinois University Information Service.)

Southern Illinois lakes and streams entertained thousands of visitors during the fishing season's first holiday weekend. Despite out winds and cool temperatures, most fishermen whether equipped with cane poles or expensive buzz whips were able to wet their strings.

Camping areas in the Crab Orchard Lake area were filled to overflowing; winds were light and the chill discouraged water-skiing. It was nice fishing weather.

Bluegills and to a lesser degree crappie held the fishing spotlight at most lakes although bass fishermen scored with acceptable regularity. Best conversation piece at Horseshoe Lake was the decline in mosquitoes which had made venturing upon the lake an adventure in itself. At Little Grassy two six-pound-plus bass were weighed at the dock; Lake Murphysboro reported three in the five-pound class. Devils Kitchen Lake reported a 4 1/2-pounder as top heavyweight; striped bass have made their appearance below the dam at Colcocks and the tributary streams in Pope and Hardin counties are in good fishing condition.

Catche Cutoff, down toward the southern tip of the state, is also in good fishing condition but an unusually large number of big, fat snakes sunning in the trees and along the banks has made it less than popular with the average fisherman.

Lake Glendale, a State Natural History Survey experimental lake in Pope County, has given up some nice bluegills but is also full of small warmouth, green sunfish and under-sized bass, says the first report from that area. Farm ponds in the county yielded nice bass until the cool weather, as did Lusk and Grand Piers Creeks.

Little Grassy Lake gave a 6 1/2-pound bass to Glen Ault of Charleston, Mo. Fishing a plus, a worm, and a 6 1/2-pounder to Jack Burns of Belleville, using a surface lure. Bill Johnson of West Frankfort landed several bass, including a 5-pounder, on a surface bait. Campers put bluegill and crappie in the skillets, using worms and minnows.

Devils Kitchen Lake had a run on bluegill with an occasional bass running to a pound in weight. The best fish were caught in 15 to 18 feet of water, according to Cline Skelcher at the boat dock. Best bait seemed to be crickets. Most of the bass reported were taken on minnows.

Lake-of-Egypt, south of Marion, has entertained fishermen with bluegills and crappies and to a lesser degree with small to medium-sized bass. Pete Mondino of West Frankfort took a 3 1/2-pound largemouth. Fishing was considered good early in the week but it fell off with the chill east winds of midweek.

Lake Murphysboro fishermen, principally from nearby Murphysboro, found action early in the week with surface lures, gill and crappie in the skillets, using worms and minnows.

Crab Orchard Lake apparently reverted to its mediocre fishing pattern after a spurt of action two weeks ago. Most of the fishing is by people who unload boats from trailers at the numerous launching ramps; spend their allotted time in favorite, out-of-way spots, then haul and go home without visiting the boat docks to talk about their catch.

The game of table tennis gained its nickname "ping pong" from the sound of the ball hitting the paddle (ping) and the table (pong).

200 Will Take Part in Joint CD Exercise

Mutual aid coordination between Granite City and Madison defense units is the principal target of this Saturday's CD exercise, the first joint civil defense exercise in several years.

About 200 volunteers are expected to participate in various phases of the practice drill.

Supervised by Granite City Civil Defense Director Victor H. Koenig and Harry R. Johnson, Madison CD director, specialized units from both organizations will be activated at about 1:30 p.m. Units expected to participate include auxiliary police, rescue squads, communications, Civil Air Patrol, first aid and hospital disaster groups.

Operational staff members will coordinate the exercise at Granite City CD control center, 1411 Nineteenth street and Madison CD headquarters, Recreation Center, 7th and Lee avenues.

Ambulances to Roar
Mock casualties will be rushed by ambulance from several simulated disaster areas in outlying locations to St. Elizabeth hospital, where disaster personnel will establish a sorting station at the emergency entrance on 21st street. Victims will then be re-assigned to various pre-arranged emergency points in the hospital building.

P. E. Robert, disaster chief coordinator for St. Elizabeth will direct procedure at the hospital assisted by Miss Delores Clyde, RN, emergency room chief nurse, Mrs. Marietta Daniels, nursing service director and Bernard Pinney, hospital personnel director. Intra-hospital communications will be closely checked, Robert reported, and direct contact with CD control centers is slated to be maintained throughout the exercise.

Takes Job With IBM
John J. Moser Jr., son of Mrs. Caroline Moser, 3109 Ash avenue, left Wednesday for Endicott, N.Y., where he has accepted a position with the IBM Corp. He is to receive his Bachelor of Science degree in Electronics at Washington University, but since the ceremony is June 8, his diploma will be sent to him.

Mrs. Kirchoff Attends Convention of MPO

Mrs. John Kirchoff, area president of the Ladies Section, an auxiliary of the Macedonian Fraternal Organization, returned home earlier this week from Youngstown, O. She was one of 39 official delegates to the women's division seventh annual international conference Over 2500 attended the one-day affair, which was highlighted by an address by Mr. Loza Markoff of Toronto, Canada.

Originating in Granite City over 38 years ago, the local ladies section has 25 members, several residing in Alton and Belleville. The men's organization is in its 12th year and plans its annual convention for September in Detroit.

Principal business at the conference included adoption of a resolution condemning a treatment of Macedonian nationals now living under Greek, Yugoslavian and Bulgarian jurisdiction. Deploring restrictions placed on Macedonians in these countries, with regard to freedom of religion, language and customs, the resolution appeals for the creation of a free and independent Macedonia. RECOVERING FROM CRASH
The family of Steve Meyer, 1602 Second street, Madison, whose car was involved in a Collinsville road traffic collision May 31, reported this week that the rear rather than the front of his car was damaged. The machine was virtually demolished, but he is recuperating satisfactorily from his injuries.

City Hires Law Firm to Begin Condemnations

A resolution for a contract with the Morris Chapman law firm to handle property condemnations for the city was approved Monday night by Granite City council members. The firm is to be given a list of about 60 pieces of property which the city seeks to condemn.

Under the contract, the firm is to be paid $250 for each condemnation and an extra amount up to a $50 limit for added costs, such as filing fees and court service charges. Last week it had submitted a contract for the $250 flat fee and no limit on added charges.

The law firm also specifies in the contract that it will not undertake the condemnations unless the council includes the fee in its new budget.

The list of condemnations has been building up over the past two years, as city attorneys have pointed out they did not have time to do the added work. Alderwoman Gabrielle Begines stressed the property owners should be given adequate time to save their property. City Atty. Piroff and the procedure was spelled out in state laws.

The cost to the city could range from $15,000 to $18,000.

Annual Church Barbecue

Arrangements have been made for a German band to play during the annual Nameski Methodist Church barbecue starting at 4:30 p.m. Saturday. It was announced today. Proceeds will go to the new sanctuary which is under construction.

Recuperating From Crash

The family of Steve Meyer, 1602 Second street, Madison, whose car was involved in a Collinsville road traffic collision May 31, reported this week that the rear rather than the front of his car was damaged. The machine was virtually demolished, but he is recuperating satisfactorily from his injuries.

Schools Designed

Consult With School Staff
Much of Monday's discussion dealt with the extent to which the architects would consult with Granite City school district administrators in developing the plans and specifications.

Such staff discussions are regarded as especially important in designing the new junior high school and also in fitting the high school addition into the overall GCHS educational program.

Possibility of dividing the architectural work was briefly explored. Also to be decided is whether to obtain bids on all four units simultaneously, or to defer some of the bidding so that a full study can be made of what to include in the new junior high, which will be located on Patton road.

Speed at which the construction is carried out will be determined on the basis of enrollment needs and on pre-election pledges made in regard to the rate at which higher school taxes will be levied.

Five Persons Injured In Mishaps Wednesday

Five persons were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries suffered in mishaps on Wednesday. All were released.

Cecil Johnson, 55, of Rural Route One, suffered head lacerations when a motor dropped on him at home. Thirteen stitches were required.

William Lax, 39, of 137 Central avenue, was struck in the head by a baseball and suffered a hematoma and a one-inch laceration over the right eyebrow and a slight abrasion to the bridge of the nose. Skull x-rays were taken and her right eye was sutured.

Robert Harper, 46, son of Mr.

Morris New President Of Local Jaycees

A hotly-contested presidential election highlighted last night's meeting of the Granite City Jaycees in the 300 Room of the Trl. Mrs. B. E. Emerson as the new president was Paul M. Morris, who noted that James Burton, who was elected first vice-president. Other officers are: Grad Krause, second vice-president; Donald Hoch, secretary; Boyd Presley, treasurer; Jerry McPherson, state director; and George "Buddy" Vesel, sergeant-at-arms.

FAVORS RETENTION OF CLOVEVIEW BUS LINE

To the Editor:

I am a resident of Cloverview and would like to put in a few words for progress—the continuance of the new bus line through our subdivision.

I have not patronized the bus lines frequently in the past but with the establishment of this new rapid transit system I plan to take advantage of it more often for the following reasons:

1. More economical.
2. Safer.
3. Takes me to a shopping area where restaurants are available to the shoppers.
4. I feel very well qualified to offer rebuttal to some of the arguments I have recently heard against the buses as I have children, have no sidewalks and live immediately on the bus route.

In a great many instances,

Bridge Tax Proving To Be A Burden To Taxing Agency

It is a rare situation, but a taxing body—the city of Venice—is now finding the payment of property taxes to be burdensome.

The tax in question is the Missouri state tax on the city-owned Venice-to-St. Louis bridge. Initially budgeted at $24,000 a year, this cost item has now soared to $75,000.

Although the tax is related to the $22 million sale price, city officials noted in the point in that the 1958 transaction included multiple bond issues whose total did not precisely show the cash value of the McKinley Bridge. The sharp degree of the increase, more than 200% suggests the need for a review by Missouri authorities at an appropriate time.

Net effect of the higher tax, combined with loss of much of the truck traffic, has been inability to meet existing bond debt requirements and still provide $100,000 a year for the city treasury beyond the next several years.

Consequences are expected to be a bridge refinancing, cutting the $100,000 to $50,000 and spreading out secondary bond retirement, and possibly a special election. The referendum would include the proposed Broadway underpass—viewed by Venice officials as a way of achieving a higher bridge traffic volume—and possibly a new fire station, community centers and city hall remodeling.

City fathers face difficult decisions tomorrow night, particularly with an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing on Venice crossings scheduled next week and a Venice school tax referendum likely to be held soon in addition to whatever bond plans are submitted to Venice voters by the city. The problem could be eased considerably by alteration of the Missouri tax; a reduction request might be worth another try.

Contract Station May Be Partial Answer To Downtown Postal Needs

The decision to create a contract postal station in downtown Granite City is a testimonial to the fact that concerted action by citizens can lead to action by governmental officials. In this particular case, the action does not go as far as had been hoped by local residents, who felt a branch post office was justified.

In a year when even White House light bulbs are being turned out in the name of economy, perhaps a contract station is the best solution that can be obtained. It will be interesting to learn what type of bids are received and how wide a range of services will be offered.

SWIU Synonymous With High Educational Quality

Latest additions to the Southwestern Illinois University faculty reflect the same high standards that were achieved in the past. The university of the staff was developed several years ago.

Liberal sprinkling in the list are holders of doctorate degrees and other educators of broad experience. Even before its main campus has been placed in use, the SWIU ranks high in quality among the universities of the United States.

Appointments of the new faculty are good; doing it is even better.

Everyone has his good points, if you are interested in finding them.

Venice School Board Action

Plans for an intensified General Educational Development program for the Venice school district were announced by Venice School Superintendent John O. Pier at Monday night's school board meeting.

The GED program, which is open to all adult Venice residents, is geared to assist those wishing to obtain the equivalent of a high school diploma.

Two classes have been held at the high school during the school year. But, with the start of the new school year, 22 future classes will be transferred to the basement of the Venice city garage, which Pier explained is an air-conditioned and is considered more suitable for the summer months.

Registration for the 70-hour course is slated for next week, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Venice city hall, in the student's office, or with the principal.

The seven-week instruction course will last seven weeks, with participants required to attend five daily sessions during the seven-week period.

Instructional classes will be held from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. An additional class will be held on Saturday, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. A session will be added to the schedule, Pier said.

Quad-Cities In Front Ranks Of Areas Broadening Job Opportunities

Industrial expansion assumes dramatic proportions when an entirely new plant of considerable size is established. But by far the majority of new jobs stem from additions to existing businesses.

In recent months there have been several examples of plant enlargements, as well as the start of new firms in this area. Latest case in point is the 8000-square-foot addition to Hubbell Metals which will provide more room for workmen, storage, cranes and rail lines.

Each such announcement may not seem earth-shaking in itself, but the frequency of them evidently is beginning to make itself felt. There are always minor fluctuations due to seasonal influences, but the overall trend here has been steadily upward. The Quad-Cities' net gain of 1600 ranks near the top among Illinois communities broadening their employment base during the past 12 months.

Past progress in itself has been significant. Including the Hubbell expansion and other factors, the outlook for the immediate future indicates there will be still further expansion of Quad-City job opportunities.

Task For Congress—Drop Double Standard On Conflict Of Interest

Practices of Congress are of interest locally not only because they affect the Quad-Cities but because they set an example for the Illinois legislature and other governing bodies.

Unfortunately, Congress is not setting an outstanding example. It still is following a double standard in regard to conflict of interest.

Mixing of official duties with personal gain is prohibited in the executive branch; appointees of the president must rid themselves of stock in companies dealing with the government. But Senators, Congressmen and their employees are under no such restrictions, and Senators this spring demonstrated unwillingness to investigate themselves even in the face of strong suspicion of wrongdoing.

A good start might be for the Senate to adopt a basic code of ethics, or to require its members to disclose their outside income. Neither seems likely to happen, but the force of public opinion could prove powerful if focused in this direction.

Large Sums Involved In Proposed Study Of River

Senators and Congressmen will need to be especially watchful now that requests by St. Louis port interests have led to a partially revised standard by the Army Corps of Engineers on a costly study of the Mississippi River water level. An appropriation will now be sought from the House and Senate.

The river, it might be noted, is quite high at present. While the ice problems of last winter cannot be disregarded, it should be remembered that a heavy volume of shipping was recorded there, breaking records at the Port of Granite City. The major difficulties encountered were not in the river channel itself but in the water depth at Missouri harbors—a situation that is not the responsibility of taxpayers.

The proposed study, and the "solution" that it could lead to, involve hundreds of thousands of dollars and then many millions of federal tax funds. This might seem a small sum, but it is absolutely no port access in the metropolitan area. But the Port of Granite City, located conveniently for all and situated directly on the channel, is ready, willing and able to handle barge freight at all times—including the occasions when unusual circumstances temporarily reduce river depth.

Local Vocational Night School A Pace-Setter In Illinois

Expansion of the supervisory staff for industrial and adult education in Granite City is an understandable step. The enrollment growth from 313 in 1956 to the current 2691 indicates that the workload has increased and also reflects significant acceleration in public interest in the program.

Education is playing an even larger role in the future of the nation and civilization itself. Granite City is in the forefront with the fourth largest vocational high school program and the largest vocational night school program.

May Parking Meter Fees, Fines Total $3229 In GC

Parking meter collections and $3359 while fines amounted to $1000 in Granite City during May $283.

Totalled $3229, bringing to $15,560 the amount of parking meter income during the first five months of the year, according to month-end report by the city controller's office.

Collections from meters amounted to $3030, while fines totaled $199 for an average of 25 parking tickets a day.

The total collection of $3229 from meter fees and fines was the second largest for the month. The previous record was exceeded only by March collections amounting to $3844 for both fees and fines. Parking fee collections reached were discussed.

Freedom's Meaning

An honest democratic government of law is the creator of freedom. Huge, bloated, bureaucratic-dominated government, tending to selfish pressure groups, is a destroyer of freedom.

SPARE YOUNGSTERS FROM FOOT MISERY

Certain infants and older children occasionally develop corns, callouses, bunions, ingrown toenails, hammertoes, plantar warts and other foot conditions. Inasmuch as some parents fail to realize the rapidity of growth in children, these problems usually arise from improperly fitting shoes.

The majority of preschool children require a larger shoe size every two or three months. Occasionally children's feet grow so rapidly that they will require a full size larger in a matter of six months.

Six to 10-year-olds need larger shoes every two to three months; 10 to 12-year-olds, every three to four months; 12 to 15-year-olds, every four to five months; and 15 to 20-year-olds, every six months.

Room For Growth

A proper fit requires that the large joint of the first toe "break" between the sole and the shank. There should be some room—usually a half-inch—between the end of the big toe and the tip of shoe. Shoes are made of many materials—leather being the most suitable because it affords good cushioning and support. A proper shoe is pliable and does not interfere with free motion of the toes.

Plastic shoes, canvas shoes and other recreation footwear may be used during summer months—but these should not be worn constantly. It is healthy for youngsters to play barefoot in sand, water or on grass, but not on cold, hard surfaces.

An infant's foot requires a loose-fitting cloth "bootie" until he learns to stand.

First shoes should have a flexible or semi-flexible shank & sole. These are generally an eighth-of-an-inch thick to protect the feet. They generally do not require a heel or arches, but a very small heel may be recommended.

Try On For Size

Never order shoes through the mail. It is especially difficult to obtain a proper fit without actually trying on the shoes for size.

The bones of the feet are not fully developed for about 10 years, and the feet take about 20 years before it is completely formed.

Shoe-fitting, therefore, is an important because of the growth factor and the need for motion and freedom.

If your youngster has weak ankles, flat feet or other defects, consult your physician so that he may make the proper steps to remedy the problem and avoid permanent conditions and disabilities.

City Still Is Seeking Way To Convert Garbage To Cash

Efforts to turn garbage to an asset instead of a liability are being continued by Granite City council members who now are directing inquiries to Phoenix, Ariz., after hitting a stone wall at Sacramento, Calif.

During Monday night's session, Alderman Charles Moore, who explained he had met the mayor of Sacramento at a meeting in recent months, said that he had been successful in the United States while it has been successful in Europe. The Sacramento engineer admitted, however, that he had no knowledge of the success of the Phoenix operation.

Presently the city collects garbage and trash together and had been considering entering into a program with Madison and Venice for the joint operation of an incinerator. Madison Mayor Hiras said Madison has virtually given up the proposal because of the huge cost. It had planned to build an incinerator for three-city use with surplus bridge funds.

Must halt the operation of its open dump along Route 203 near East St. Louis by Aug. 26. The municipalities of Madison and Venice have the same problem, and it is hoped a joint solution can be worked out.

May Rainfall Keeps Total For Year Below Normal

Rainfall in the Quad-Cities continues to run almost an inch and a half below normal after the month of May produced rainfall on only 13 days — five of these registered only as a trace — according to the center wall gauge maintained by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers at the Chain of Rocks canal locks.

Total registered rainfall for May was only 2.79 inches with 1.30 inches of the total falling on a single day, May 28. During the first 27 days of the month only 1.44 inches had registered. Normal precipitation for May is 5.75 inches with the total normal for the first five months of the year at 15.10 inches. The total May rainfall increased to 13.67 inches the total registered fall thus far this year—1.43 inches below normal.

The second heaviest fall registered last month was on May 27 when .70 of an inch was recorded. Thus a total of two inches of the month's total fell on two consecutive days, May 27 and 28. On two of the other recorded days the fall showed only .03 of an inch. On 18 days of the month the gauge showed zero readings.

Driest month of the year thus far was January with only .97 of an inch recorded. February produced only 2.18 inches. March fell was 3.48 inches. April the highest at 4.25 inches and May with 2.79.

BLIGHT CAUSING DAMAGE TO WHEAT CROPS

Septoria leaf blight is present in almost every wheat field in the county. It causes greater losses than any other wheat disease in Illinois.

Infected fields have irregular yellowish areas. On the individual plant, leaf blight appears as small, light green to yellow areas between the veins of the leaves. The lower leaves yellow and die first, and then the disease progresses up the plant.

Black specks appear on the yellowed leaves. Often they appear in cycles. A leaf that is yellow one day may show many black specks—fruits of the fungus—the next day. Last week we saw a field entirely yellow, no green in the plants at all.

The fungus lives through the summer on infected plant refuse and on volunteer wheat and then infects new winter wheat seedlings as they emerge in the fall. Infections continue to grow and spread until stopped by severe cold. All the varieties in our two variety test plots appear to be affected.

Recommendations for control include:

Where feasible, rotate crops for three or four years between wheat crops.

Plow-under wheat stubble deeply and cleanly as soon as possible after combining.

Destroy all volunteer wheat, rye, barley, and wild grasses (including wild rye and barley) before seeding time.

Plant certified seed that has been thoroughly cleaned and treated with a recommended fungus-killing fungicide.

ADDED INCOME POSSIBLE

A feeder lamb operation can provide many farmers with an extra source of income.

A well-managed flock utilizes farm-grown feeds, provides winter work and requires a minimum of capital investment.

Although a feeder lamb enterprise requires a moderate high level of management, it's no more speculative than most cattle-feeding programs.

As in any other livestock feeding operation, it's important to start with thrifty animals, bought at a reasonable price. It's also important to consider the weight and condition of the lambs.

Light-weight lambs (approximately 60 pounds) can use roughage, whereas heavier lambs require a more concentrated ration and a shorter feeding period if they are to be marketed at the desired weight.

Corn is usually the most economical source of energy for lambs. Oats can be used, but they are usually limited to the early feeding period. Barley and milk are also excellent feeds in areas where they are available.

Pastures are used in lamb-feeding predominantly as a method of getting cheap gains. Grazing cornfields from early August until late fall has also become a profitable practice for many lamb feeders.

For more information on feeder lamb operations ask your farm adviser's office for a copy of the University of Illinois booklet, Your 1964 Lamb-Feeding Guide.

FIELD DAY TO OUTLINE LATEST AGRONOMIC RESEARCH

The first of a series of field days bringing farmers the latest agronomic research will start at 9:30 in the morning June 11 at the Brownstown Research Center in Fayette county. Among other money-making practices, agronomist Pat Johnson will present his famous recipe for 150 bushels of corn per acre. With complete soil treatment—lime, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium—Johnson has produced 150 bushels of corn per acre, wheat on Cline soil. Without this kind of treatment, the Cline soil is

Immunization Clinic

Saturday at Hospital

The regular monthly immunization clinic will be held Saturday from 8 to 10 a.m. at St. Elizabeth Hospital for persons with referrals from their physicians, school nurses or local agencies.

The free clinic is sponsored by the hospital medical staff, the hospital and several cooperating organizations and is conducted on the first Saturday of each month.

Over 100 persons have visited the clinic each month. Last month the clinic was canceled because of the oral polio vaccine program.

one of the lowest producing in the state.

Other features at the Brownstown Field Day include the latest pre-emergence chemical controls for corn and soybeans, chemical vs. mechanical cultivation, all out nitrogen on winter wheat, deep plowing, small grain varieties, forage mixture studies, continuous corn vs. rotation, forestry management studies and a display of new machines for minimum tillage. A number of Madison county farmers are expected to attend the Brownstown meeting.

ARMY WORMS CONTINUE RAVAGING WHEAT CROP

The ravages of army worms continued during the past week. According to the latest estimates, about 8000 acres of wheat and other crops were sprayed with insecticides in Madison county, greatly reducing much of the possible loss. Recent rain stopped the spraying, delaying the treatment of many fields. Most of the infestations were in wheat fields. Some corn was destroyed, also some new clover seedlings and pastures.

An army worm has a healthy appetite, and one worm will consume 43 linear inches of wheat leaf, the equivalent of the leaves on three plants, from the time it hatches until it reaches maturity. It does 80% of this damage or feeding in the last three to five days of the worm larval stage. Insecticide applications are recommended when the worms are about one-half to three-fourths inch long. Treatment with insecticides will not be profitable after the worms are full grown, an inch and a half to two inches long, as they will soon stop feeding, burrow into the ground, and pupate.

In this area the spring generation is usually the one that is dangerous. Temperatures during the summer favor the spread of a disease that rapidly kills army worms and greatly reduces the numbers of the second and third generations.

Cutworms have also been damaging crops, especially corn. One farmer had an entire 20-acre field of corn destroyed by cutworms. Army worms seldom attack pure stands of alfalfa and other legumes, but cutworms do feed on these crops. If the field is a grass-legume mixture, cutworms and army worms may both be present. If it is a pure grass stand, the insects are probably army worms. The damage is the same, however, as both eat the foliage. All fields should be inspected frequently, so insecticides can be used promptly if insects are causing serious damage.

Total precipitation for the year is now about normal. Some soybean fields have poor stands because the soil was so dry after planting and there will be some replanting. Most corn stands are satisfactory. Hard rains caused some washing mostly in the northern part of the county.

The first cutting of alfalfa has been finished on some farms, with much of it interrupted by rain. The use of hay-conditioners in cutting hay shortens the time required for field curing and reduces the chances of getting the cut hay wet.

Former Venice School Board Members Honored

Two bronze and walnut plaques were presented Monday evening to Thomas W. Foley and Leo A. Davinroy, who between them served 45 consecutive years as members of the Venice school board.

Foley, a board member for 28 consecutive years, and Davinroy, with 17 years' service, received the appreciation awards from former School Board President Lester E. Salem, current board secretary. The two men retired from the Venice board body in April.

The engraved plaques cited "distinguished and faithful service" and gave credit to their "vision, ability and devotion" in promoting a higher standard of education for the Venice school system. The presentation was made during the regular monthly school board session.

Wilshire Joining GC Park District To Be Discussed

Possibility of the Wilshire Manor subdivision joining the Granite City park district will be discussed during the next membership meeting of the Wilshire Manor Civic and Improvement Association Tuesday night, June 23, at the Peace Lutheran Church on Stratford lane.

Park officials attended an association board meeting Monday night to explain the park and recreation program as well as plans for a new park site which has been purchased immediately adjacent to the Peace Church property. A special election to amend the park district may be held if there is sufficient interest among Wilshire residents. It was reported Monday night that ball diamonds and recreation equipment will be placed in operation at the new park this summer.

It was noted that current park district activities include a preschool program, dog training, open air concerts, July 1-July 5 Independence Day celebration, softball, football, tennis, girls' and boys' sports programs, "splatter parties," reserved shelters for picnics, gymnastics, daytime recreational centers, opera trips, outdoor motion pictures, special football trip, swimming, baseball school and boys' baseball leagues.

Man Breaks Probation, Gets Year in Prison

Robert Baker, 34, of 2717 Lincoln avenue, was sentenced to a year on the state prison farm at Vandalia Tuesday by Associate Judge Fred Schuman after Baker admitted that he violated terms of his probation. He also was indicted in Bond county Monday on a perjury charge.

He was charged with stealing a clock radio from a Collinsville store on April 4 and was placed on two years probation May 21 on condition that he spend 15 weekends in jail and that he discontinue his associations with police officers.

Baker was picked up by Granite City police at about 5 p.m. last Friday and was to have reported to the county jail at 9 p.m. that evening but failed to do so.

He was picked up again at 5:15 a.m. Sunday in an area where a store window was broken and had blood on his shirt. He told police that he had been in a fight in Brooklyn. He also was seen in the company of various hoodlums, police said.

Four Granite City policemen and a deputy sheriff testified in court, and Baker admitted the violations on the stand.

It was reported that Joseph Barvick, assistant state's attorney, will advise the Bond county state's attorney to prosecute Baker on the perjury charge while in the next four months. Sheriff Barney Fraundorf said that charge could draw a penalty of five years in prison. Arraignment is scheduled in Greenville on June 15.

No Stings Attached To Mail Delivery

True to their tradition that the mail must go through, regardless of its content, Granite City postal authorities safely handled an unusual delivery Monday.

Local mailroom personnel most carefully, turned over a swarm of bees numbering more than 50,000 to Ray Edwards, 3024 Iowa street. Neighbors on Iowa need not fear bees invading, as Edwards, head custodian at Granite City senior high school and an enthusiastic beekeeper for the past 36 years, will remove his hive to farm property near Jerseyville in the near future.

The hive traveled from Louisiana in an open screened package with no stings reported enroute.

Grand Jury Wants New County Home As Well As Jail

The Madison county grand jury Tuesday recommended replacement of complete renovation of the Madison county nursing home at Edwardsville in addition to replacement of the county jail.

The report said that the facilities at the home, once known as the county poor farm, are old and inadequate, though "very clean and well maintained."

A citizens commission to study county building needs, especially at the jail, is active and may present recommendations to the county board of supervisors at a meeting on Monday or in July. Jurors recommended that the tube slide fire escape at the home be replaced with a more easily used stair to make escape easier, and that a small treatment or suture room for emergencies be developed to prevent unnecessary delays in curing emergency cases.

The panel agreed with previous grand juries that necessary improvements at the county jail cannot be satisfactorily accomplished by rehabilitation or expansion, and that a new building would appear to be the best solution.

Criticism of Jail

It made four criticisms: A severe safety hazard exists from the standpoint of fire and structural failure. There are inadequate facilities for segregation of offenders. There are inadequate facilities for processing of prisoners, storage and filing, for private interviews and for visitors. There are inadequate facilities to permit guard supervision and prisoner exercise and recreation. No criticisms or recommendations were made on the county tuberculosis sanitarium which the report termed to be "clean and well maintained."

State Asked For Route 270 Lights, Signs At Turnoffs

The need for appropriate lights and signs at local turnoffs of Interstate Route 270 was presented Tuesday in Springfield to Francis Lorenz, head of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings. Chairman William Thelke reported at the June meeting of Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday night at the Rose Bowl.

Those conferring with Lorenz were Thelke, Chamber President, Chester L. Baker and Albert Froelich.

Establishment of new bus service here was noted.

Propose Welcome Signs
A report by Froelich on plans for billboards was referred to a committee for a recommendation at the July meeting. The permanent signboards would welcome travelers to the Quad-Cities as a "good place to live, shop and invest."

Also under study is proposed sponsorship of a "Social Security Day" calling attention to the extensive expansions in progress at many local industrial plants, as well as continuing efforts to attract new industries to the Quad-Cities area. The board voted against participating in an industrial development proposal which originated in St. Louis county.

Hearings On Station Closing
Topics considered included efforts by the Madison County Taxpayers Association, which at one time strongly opposed zoning and the establishment of Southwestern Illinois University, to expand and hire a full-time secretary; a fund drive on behalf of the Latin-American rhythm ensemble, which will tour Mexico this summer; and a pending hearing on proposed closing of the local Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad station.

Anthony Michel reported re-ord attendance at the Chamber playday held last week, and it was reported that information on prospective C. of C. executive managers is being reviewed. The managerial position has been vacant since May 18.

and Tri-City Glass Co. were accepted as Chamber members, and it was announced that the annual membership drive totaled $8,000. Carl Mathias urged completion of the multiple membership campaign.

Board of Review Returned to Demo Majority

John W. Lauer of Alton, a long-time Democratic party member in Madison county, was seated Monday as the second Democratic member of the Madison county board of review as the board convened in Edwardsville to reorganize and to set its 1964 tax assessment work underway.

Lauer was named to a two-year term last Dec. 27 by then County Judge Michael Kinney to succeed Charles A. Rook of Godfrey township, a Republican appointing member of the review board for four two-year terms.

Lauer, who is 68 and lives at 519 Henry street, Alton, is a former president of Kinzie Ice & Fuel Co., Alton.

As the result of several unique developments, the Madison county review board has been operating the past year with a Republican majority on the three-member board, a situation contrary to statutory provisions for majority party representation. This came about in April a year ago with the election of Harold Landolt, Alton, township supervisor, as chairman of the county board of supervisors as successor to Gus Haller who retired.

Participating in the organization meeting Monday were Chas. H. W. Lauer, who holds the office in virtue of his chairmanship of the county board of supervisors, and Frank Risk of Collinsville, holder of Democratic appointee who has one more year to serve.

Leo J. Struff, former Alton mayor, was retained as a member of the board of review and was appointed as its secretary.

RIPPLES LIKE WATER are clearly visible in this photo of the street surface in the 2600 block of Edison avenue where the finish surface on the concrete has flaked away. Similar conditions exist in the 2600 blocks of Cleveland

Council Plans Study to Save Flaking Concrete Streets

A program to "save concrete streets" was recommended during Monday night's Granite City council session by Alderman Paul Rutledge, who said he noticed the paved streets were "flaking and breaking up" in the 2600 block of Benton street and the 2600 blocks of Cleveland blvd., Delmar avenue and Edison avenue.

A similar project was carried out about two years ago on Cayuga street with motor fuel tax funds.

Resurfacing of the 2600 blocks of these three streets had been proposed several years ago by former alderman Charles Meyer, but nothing was done.

Rutledge noted the entire finish surface was gone from the concrete pavements and that the streets are deteriorating rapidly.

The same situation along Edison avenue sidewalk in front of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. office is to be corrected by the phone company which is seeking bids for replacement.

Drainage Line Project
G. H. Sternberg, chairman of the Street committee, said a contract finally has been signed with M. H. Wolfe & Co. for an installation of a drainage line in the Vesce-Spaulding avenue area to connect to a larger line in the Ponton Plaza subdivision.

Sternberg explained there had been confusion over the need for a contract with the firm, but that the situation had been cleared and work should be started in the near future.

At the suggestion of Alderman Casmer Skubish, the Illinois Power Co. is to be billed for the cost to repair a broken sanitary sewer line at the rear of the Belvedere Village shopping center.

Skubish said he was informed by Supt. of Streets William Wardfield that a belt support for a utility pole guy wire was found in the sewer line. The repairs were made by the street department and took two days with overtime.

Signals On East 20th
An ordinance was adopted granting permission to Granite City Steel Co. to install and maintain traffic signals on East 20th street at the Nash street entrance to a plant. A worker was struck and killed by an auto there last year.

The signal lights also will include separate lights for pedestrians crossing the street from the mill parking lot to the entrance. They will be operated either manually or automatically at the discretion of the plant.

Standard green, amber, red signals are to be installed to control traffic and the new lights also will be synchronized to go red when warning lights at the adjacent railroad crossings begin to flash.

Adequate protection has been sought for a number of months by the unions at the plant, and there have been numerous conferences of officials of the unions, plant, city and state highway department.

The new system was designed by the plant. A "dead end" sign is to be installed at the Michigan avenue alley off 27th street, Sternberg pointed out motorists frequently drive into the alley and then at the western end drive across a Michigan avenue resident's lawn to get to the street.

A resolution is to be prepared for installation of a fire hydrant along Sara avenue in Ponton Plaza subdivision with Fire Chief Elijah King to designate the location to the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co.

Stop signs at four intersections along Terminal avenue were requested last week by Sixth Ward Alderman William McGee, who told the council that speeding along the street had been causing considerable concern to residents. Petitions signed by 90 residents requesting the stop signs were presented to the council after a five-year old girl was struck by an auto while running to an ice cream truck. The petitions also asked abolition of ice cream trucks. No action was taken on this phase of the request.
